NEW LEHIGH CLASSES IN BANGKOK

Lehigh University will be offering two new graduate classes on Artificial Intelligence in Education at the 2026 Summer Institute held at Thammasat University's Tha Prachan Campus in Bangkok

TLT 461 Introduction to Artificial Intelligence in Education June 29 - July 3, 8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Delve into the transformative world of Artificial Intelligence (AI) in education by exploring the history and current development of AI, its potential impact on various aspects of teaching and learning, and how educators can leverage AI tools effectively. Throughout the course, you will develop your AI literacy by understanding fundamental concepts, ethical considerations, and limitations. You will also gain hands-on experience with diverse AI tools applicable in various educational settings.

Instructor: Tom Hammond

Credits: 3 Graduate Credits

TLT 462 Special Topics in Teaching, Learning, and Technology: AI and Language Education July 6 - July 10, 8:30 a.m. - 3:30 p.m.

Learn how to utilize AI for language teaching and language learning. This course will guide students through the process of finding, critically evaluating and implementing AI in the language classroom while also giving students tools to leverage AI in their specific linguistic contexts. Students will engage with various AI tools to build their AI literacy, understand best practices for AI use, discuss ethical considerations and policies, transform an existing unit or design a new unit using AI tools.
